

Memorandum of Understanding between the British Dietetic Association and The Vegan Society

Introduction

1. This Memorandum of Understanding is between the BDA and The Vegan Society. The Memorandum sets out an agreed framework for co-operation between the parties. It is not legally binding nor is it intended to cover every detailed aspect of their relationship. Rather, it is a statement of principles, which will guide relations between the parties and provide a set of workable ground rules.
2. The Memorandum cannot over-ride the statutory duties and powers of the individual parties.

Organisation Aims and Values

The British Dietetic Association

3. The BDA is the Professional Association for dietitians. Its aims are to:
 - Advance the science and practice of dietetics and associated subjects;
 - Promote training and education in the science and practice of dietetics and associated subjects;
 - Regulate the relations between dietitians and their employer through the BDA Trade Union.

The Vegan Society

4. The Vegan Society is the world's oldest vegan society, whose mission is to make veganism mainstream. They seek to do this through the following long-term goals:
 - Improved vegan catering, nutrition, education and agriculture; encouraging government, public and private sector bodies to adopt and reward sustainable, healthy and compassionate lifestyles.
 - Greatly increase the number of people trying veganism and remaining vegan, because they believe that:
 - Animals have a right to life and freedom.
 - Animal exploitation also negatively affects human justice (global food distribution issues, etc).
 - Animal farming is no longer sustainable and severely damaging to the environment
 - Balanced vegan nutrition is healthy.

Working Relationship

5. This Memorandum of Understanding will:
 - Build upon the existing working relationship that already exists between the BDA and The Vegan Society by setting out the principles to which both parties will adhere.
 - Enhance co-operation and co-ordination between the BDA and The Vegan Society.
 - Serve to inform the respective members and stakeholders of the BDA and The Vegan Society of our relationship and how we will collaborate.
6. As a result of the memorandum the BDA and The Vegan Society will:
 - Work together to show those who choose to follow a vegan diet that it is possible to follow well-planned, vegan-friendly diets that can support healthy living in people of all ages, and during pregnancy and breastfeeding. This must include information on appropriate use of fortified foods and supplementation.
 - Promote reliable, evidence-based advice on what constitutes a healthy vegan diet to members of the public, services users and medical professionals.
 - Clearly promote the partnership on their websites and through other appropriate channels.
 - Collaborate on projects and campaigns deemed to be of mutual benefit.
 - Work together to produce evidence-based resources of relevance to Vegan Society and BDA members and endorse them according to the BDA and Vegan Society endorsement processes.
 - Provide mutual support for initiatives through communication channels including organisational websites, journals and social media.
 - Endeavour to share information, professional advice and resources that are relevant.
