

The Process of a Parliamentary Debate
Closing statements from each side
The Speaker announces the result
The debate begins – 'order, order'
The motion is put to the House – overview of the question and its importance
The member opposing the motion begins
The Speaker announces the question: 'the question before us is...'
Other speakers respond, with for and against given equal balance
The Speaker announces the question and voting takes place

The Process of a Parliamentary Debate
Closing statements from each side
The Speaker announces the result
The debate begins – 'order, order'
The motion is put to the House – overview of the question and its importance
The member opposing the motion begins
The Speaker announces the question: 'the question before us is...'
Other speakers respond, with for and against given equal balance
The Speaker announces the question and voting takes place

The Process of a Parliamentary Debate
Closing statements from each side
The Speaker announces the result
The debate begins – 'order, order'
The motion is put to the House – overview of the question and its importance
The member opposing the motion begins
The Speaker announces the question: 'the question before us is...'
Other speakers respond, with for and against given equal balance
The Speaker announces the question and voting takes place

The Process of a Parliamentary Debate
Closing statements from each side
The Speaker announces the result
The debate begins – 'order, order'
The motion is put to the House – overview of the question and its importance
The member opposing the motion begins
The Speaker announces the question: 'the question before us is...'
Other speakers respond, with for and against given equal balance
The Speaker announces the question and voting takes place

WORKSHEET: THE DEBATE